By The Numbers: How Medicaid Strengthens Washington

Medicaid is not only a lifeline for millions of Washingtonians, it strengthens our communities in countless ways. These are reasons why the program is overwhelmingly popular: 74 percent of Americans support Medicaid.

WASHINGTONIANS DEPEND ON MEDICAID

- 1,775,327 Washingtonians Are Covered Through Medicaid. 1,775,327 Washingtonians have medical coverage through Medicaid - most of them children, seniors, and people with disabilities.
- In Washington, Adults Up To 138 Percent Of The Federal Poverty Line May Enroll In Medicaid. After expanding Medicaid, Washington residents earning up to 138 percent of the federal poverty line are now eligible to enroll in Medicaid.
- 601,200 Washingtonians Have Gained Coverage Through Medicaid Expansion. Thanks to Medicaid expansion, 601,200 Washington residents are enrolled in the program.

MEDICAID IS A LIFELINE FOR CHILDREN, SENIORS, AND PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

42 Percent of Washington's Children Rely on Medicaid. 42 percent of Washington children rely on Medicaid for coverage. Medicaid pays almost $4 billion annually in school-based health services. Schools depend on these funds connect students with vital health resources — 68 percent of school superintendents said that they used these funds to keep nurses, counselors, and speech therapists on staff.

Medicaid Supports 59 Percent Of Washingtonians In Nursing Homes. 59 percent of Washingtonians living in nursing homes have coverage through Medicaid.

Medicaid Covers 19 Percent of Washington's Seniors and People with Disabilities. In Washington, 19 percent of seniors and people with disabilities have health coverage through Medicaid, including for nursing home care. Nationally, approximately one in four people on Medicaid are seniors (9 percent) or people with disabilities (15 percent). However, their care represents about two-thirds of all Medicaid spending. In other words, funding cuts to Medicaid will disproportionately affect the most vulnerable.

MEDICAID HELPS WASHINGTONIANS ACCESS TREATMENT FOR OPIOID ADDICTION

Medicaid Covers One In Four Americans With An Opioid Use Disorder. Medicaid pays for 26 percent of Washington's buprenorphine expenditure, a medication used to treat opioid addiction.

REPUBLICANS' WAR ON THE ACA AND MEDICAID JEOPARDIZES COVERAGE FOR 1.8 MILLION WASHINGTONIANS

601,200 Washingtonians Enrolled Through Medicaid Expansion Now At Risk. The Graham-Cassidy bill would eliminate Medicaid expansion, which has helped 601,200 Washingtonians receive quality, affordable coverage, and put part of its funding into inadequate block grants. The bill would further punish states that expanded Medicaid by redistributing funds to states that did not expand Medicaid.

1,775,327 Washingtonians With Traditional Medicaid Coverage, Including Seniors, People With Disabilities, And Children, Are At Risk. The Graham-Cassidy bill that President Trump revived in his FY19 budget proposal would turn traditional Medicaid into a per capita cap, meaning the 1,775,327 Washingtonians who are enrolled on Medicaid would have their care jeopardized. Medicaid disproportionately helps children, seniors in nursing home care and people with disabilities. A study by Avalere found that Graham-Cassidy would cut funding for people with disabilities by 15 percent and 31 percent for children by 2036.

841,537 Washington Children's Care Is At Risk. 841,537 Washington kids are currently enrolled in Medicaid and CHIP, and their care could be at risk because of funding cuts in Graham-Cassidy.
